The Life Story of Patricia Ann Broils Dean

Patricia Ann Broils Dean, affectionately known as “Patty” by friends, “Mun” by siblings, and “Pattynana” by her grandchildren, was born in Chicago to Earl Pershing and Willie B. Broils on June 9, 1949.

Patricia was a one-of-kind creative who inspired those around her to live authentically and with imagination. She was her Mother’s helper, as she was the oldest of the four siblings remaining at home out of nine. She graduated from Jones Commercial High School in 1965, where her love of numbers began to flourish into many skilled career paths, allowing her to practice as a Business Analyst, Underwriting Account Analyst, and a licensed Certified Public Accountant. These careers allowed her to travel the world, from places such as Germany to Hawaii.

Patricia was united in marriage to the love of her life, Lawrence Dean, from Arlington, TN. From this union came one daughter and two sons: LaJuana, Keith, and Lawrence III. Patricia loved cooking, baking, traveling, sewing, and perusing a variety of restaurants with friends and family. She loved and inspired many people with her presence, her firm, but loving voice, and her infamous laugh. Her grandchildren knew they could always count on her to be provide support, a listening ear, guidance, and unconditional love.

Patricia had a servant's heart and was constantly giving of her time and resources and lived by her belief that the best thing you could do for a person is to be kind. She loved deeply and provided all those whom she loved with an abundance of food, advice, and laughter. Patricia stood in the gap for many and was the first person many people thought to call, whether it be for help through a crisis, to celebrate an accomplishment, or simply to share the ordinary and joyful happenings of life.

Patricia is survived by her husband Lawrence, her daughter LaJuana Jackson (Eric), her sons Keith Dean (Latoya) and Lawrence Dean III (Sheila); 16 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren; her sister Michelle Broils and a host of beloved cousins, nieces, nephews, and friends.

Patricia was preceded in death by her parents Earl Pershing and Willia B Broils and her siblings, brothers Alec (December 25, 2004), Harold Bobbie (November 01, 2019), Gregory Pershing (March 26, 1993), Gerald Andrew (January 31, 1975)), Keith Moran (January 09, 1956), and sisters Zerlene (July 05, 2024), Barbara Jean (June 03, 1990).
